2 Seriously Hurt In Auto Crash at Bridge on No. 67

Texas Couple Injured Near Hope—Man Loses
Forearm

TRUCK AND CAR HIT Passenger Machine Crushed by Heavily Load- ed Truck

Two persons were seriously hurt and a third escaped with minor injuries as the result of an automobile accident on Highway No. 67, 1½ miles east of Hope late Monday afternoon.

E. J. Patterson, aged 58, paint contractor from Dallas, Texas, and his wife, aged 46, are in Josephine hospital suffering from abrasions, cuts about the body, and lacerations of the face. It was necessary to amputate the arm of Patterson, four inches below the elbow.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson were en route to Montreal, N. C., to attend a church assembly, when their Oldsmobile coupe collided with a loaded log truck on a narrow bridge. The truck was coming toward Hope.

The truck plunged off a high embankment and its driver, whose name is Brown, from Prescott, escaped with only minor bruises about the body.

Both machines were reported to be running at an excessive rate of speed. Patterson pulled his car to the right and drove it into the railings of the bridge, swerving the rear end around as the loaded truck smashed into it. Both machines were badly torn up.

Reports from the hospital at noon Thursday said the couple were resting well, and that they would recover unless complications set up.

Husband Grilled in Wife's Slaying

Five hours after the nearly nude body of his 18-year-old wife, Gertrude, was found in a creek near Millersburg, Ohio, Herbert W. Meeker, 23, farmer, was taken in custody and grilled in connection with her mysterious death. Meeker, handcuffed, is shown, left above, being led to a cell by Sheriff John A. Stevens. The young woman's head had been crushed and footprints indicated a terrific struggle had occurred. A mile distant, Meeker's blood-soaked shirt was found. At his home, officers said they found a bloody shirt. Confronted with his wife's body in a Millersburg morgue, Meeker fainted. Denying any knowledge of the slaying, he said his wife had disappeared from their home during the night preceding the finding of her body. The couple had been married a little more than a year.

Three Wounded In Gang War Shooting

Children Menaced by Bullets as Gunman Fires
at Racketeer

NEW YORK — Three men were wounded and the lives of scores of children were menaced when a gunman opened fire at a racket leader on a crowded sidewalk in Forsythe street, on Manhattan's East Side at 4:30 p. m. Monday. The target, James Alasia, 31, who rose to eminence in the alien smuggling ring following the murder of his chieftain, Salvatore Maranzano, in the Grand Central building last September 10, was shot three times and is not expected to recover.

Two bullets went wild, wounding Simon Cohen and Vito Virgelotti. With the unconscious Alasia, they were removed to Gouverneur hospital where it was found Cohen had a bullet in the hand and Virgelotti had been shot in the right leg.

His gun emptied, the assassin dashed into the tenement from which he had emerged and escaped, although squads of police hunted the vicinity for hours.

Meanwhile the neighborhood was in turmoil. In the open space fronting on Forsythe street and extending to the Williamsburg bridge approach, hundreds of children were playing baseball and other games, and mothers were sunning their babies. A wild scurry for safety followed the shots.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

One Home Burned, Another Damaged

Flames Strike Park Drive
Properties at Midnight
Monday

One residence was destroyed and another badly damaged in a fire which broke out on Park Drive near the Southwest Arkansas Fair Grounds just before midnight Monday.

The house formerly occupied by the Easterling family was destroyed, and a residence owned by A. D. Middlebrooks was gutted. Both buildings were unoccupied. The Easterling house was understood to be the property of a building and loan concern. Both residences having just completed some improvements on their property.

Owing to dead-end water mains, and the lack of fire-plugs, city firemen were compelled to lay 1,000 feet of hose to reach the flames, they reported.

They had to cut back from Eighth street to Sixth, a distance of nearly three blocks, to reach the nearest plug—and then it was the city's pumper-tank wagon that saved the day, firemen said.

Ford, in Message, Backs Prohi Law

Dr. Clarence True Wilson
Attacks Walker for Beer Parade

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—Henry Ford Monday night sent a message endorsing prohibition to the Methodist General Conference at Dr. Clarence True Wilson sharply criticized Mayor Walker of New York for leading "the loose and lawless elements of his mis-governed municipality to rally in a big wet parade."

Dr. Wilson warned that a "wet" candidate of the type of former Gov. Alvin E. Smith would find dry opposition in this year's presidential campaign no different from 1928.

Henry Ford's message, read at the quadrennial temperance and prohibition rally of the church, was brief: "I give my unreserved support to the Eighteenth amendment and the prohibition law," he wrote, "because they provide the degree of control over liquor which is necessary for national sobriety. As between a law which favors drinking and a law which favors sobriety, the American home and church and school and workshop stand for the latter."

"Prohibition is the best method that has yet been devised to give effect to the sober sentiment of the nation. We have always had excellent official cooperation in its enforcement."

Many Die When French Steamer Destroyed by Fire

Other Ships Rush to the Rescue When Alarm
Is Given

DETAILS LACKING Vessel Returning to France From Initial Voyage to Indo-China

ADEN, Arabia—(AP)—Eighty to one hundred persons, mostly first class passengers were trapped aboard the blazing French motorship George Phillipe and are thought to have lost their lives, survivors declared Tuesday when they arrived aboard the British steamer Contractor at this port.

The fire broke out with an explosive force aboard the $4,000,000 French motorship George Phillipe as the liner was entering the Gulf of Aden on its return from a maiden voyage to the Orient.

Only a short time elapsed between the first alarm and the SOS sent out at 5:45 a. m. The three ships rushed to the rescue and soon began to report picking up survivors. The British steamer Contractor wireless she had 120 aboard another British steamer, the Mahsud, reported picking up 134 and the Russian tanker Sovetskai Noft had 490 aboard. The Japanese liner Hakone Maru reported to the French wireless station here that it had seen an overturned life boat. It had also picked up victims of the wreck, but has not yet reported the total number rescued. The British liners Orontes and Kaiserhind also responded.

From the Mahsud, via Aden, came the following grim message:

"Burying French girls at sea. George Phillipe still burning this afternoon."

This was believed to refer to three passengers reported seriously burned in an earlier dispatch.

Shortly after the Contractor radioed that a young French girl, Mile. de Ruffers, had died of her injuries and had been buried at sea.

Flames Spread Quickly

The conflagration started in the interior of the ship, presumably from a leak in the oil pipes, and the flames hissed upward like jets from an acetylene torch. Many of the 600 passengers were women and children of French officials in the Far East who were returning to France. There also was a sprinkling of English and American tourists, it is believed, and many notables, among them Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese delegate to the League of Nations. He was among those rescued.

The ship was returning from its first voyage to Japan, having left Marseilles February 25 and Tokio April 12, touching at Colombo. It was expected here Wednesday.

At the moment the fire broke out the Phillipe was plowing along the ship lane nearly midway between Cochin Island and Cape Guardafui in the Indian Ocean. The easternmost tip of Africa. Ships usually stay well clear of that treacherous sandy coast, which is infested by savage Bedouins. Realizing that launching life boats would be a desperate gamble in the rough seas—this is the season of the southwest monsoons—Captain Vieuq swung the nose of his ship sharply around and dashed with full speed of the ship's 11,600 horsepower motors for the African shore, trying to win a mile or two which would enable the boats to be launched in the quieter waters inside the cape.

Second Fire on Liner

This is the second time that fire has broken out on the Phillipe. On November 20, 1930, while en route to Africa, it was struck by a fire which caused the final touches on the interior decorations fire broke out in the refrigeration chambers and was mastered only after a stubborn fight lasting several hours.

By an odd coincidence the Paul Lee, which the Phillipe replaced in the Far Eastern service also was destroyed by fire, burning in dock in 1928.

The Phillipe was an ultra-modern motorship launched at St. Nazaire in November, 1930. It was 526 feet long and had a displacement of 21,000 tons. A number of striking innovations in maritime architecture were effected on the Phillipe. It had rectangular funnels instead of the usual round or oval ones and is believed to have been the first ship with private terraces, like penthouse apartments overlooking the sea, setting off deluxe cabins.

It was decorated in the French renaissance style and was a veritable floating chateau with period saloons modeled after the famous French chateaux. It had accommodations for 1,077 passengers.

Gravel Roads Are Put in Condition

Maintenance Work Resumed by State, Engineer
McGaughy Announces

Maintenance work has been revived on state highways, and they are being placed in fair to good condition, H. H. McGaughy, chief of the district office No. 3, in Hope, announced Monday night.

A moderate amount of patching work is being done in all nine counties of the southwestern district, Mr. McGaughy reported, particular attention being given to the state gravel roads, which were hit worst during the lay-off in maintenance work last winter.

The district engineer said that during last week-end blading was begun on the Lewisville, Columbus and Emmet highways out of Hope. Work is also being done on the shoulders of the gravel road from Hope to Elvins.

On the paved highway No. 87 from Hope to Fulton, maintenance crews are filling in washed places in the earth shoulders, and are sodding and graveling the shoulders.

Out of Prescott, in the same highway district, state forces are regaveling the Elvins road, No. 24, and are patching up the Rosston road, No. 19.

A gasoline scoop-shovel that has been operating at Prescott is to be moved to DeQueen for work on No. 71, Mr. McGaughy said.

Negroes Free Girl For $300 Ransom

Victim Is Abducted From Philadelphia Street and Held 35 Hours

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Nathan Gerson, a laundry owner, reported to police Monday night that his daughter, Dora, 19, was kidnapped by four negroes last Saturday, held prisoner for 35 hours and released Monday after payment of a $300 ransom. Gerson said he refrained from communicating with the authorities before his daughter was returned for fear she might be harmed.

The kidnapers communicated with him twice, he said, demanding $1,000. He finally induced them to accept $300, which he paid to one of the men on a street corner Monday. Two hours later the girl was pushed from an automobile two blocks from her home.

Miss Gerson related that the negroes accosted her from an automobile and asked a street direction. When she paused to answer one clapped a hand over her mouth and dragged her into the automobile, where she was bound and gagged. She said she was imprisoned in a barn "somewhere in the country."

NASHVILLE, Ark.—Assistant General Manager J. H. Mr. Skillern stated that the structures will be completed in plenty of time for the handling of the tomato crop here this year.

Troops Rushed to Stop Bombay Riots

64 Dead, 650 Wounded as Hindu-Moslem Fighting Continues

BOMBAY, India.—(AP)—Armored cars from Poona patrolled the streets of Bombay Tuesday and troops rushed there in their wake to quell fierce fighting of Hindus and Moslems in which 64 have been killed and at least 650 wounded the past three days.

Whole districts of Bombay were in a state of siege Monday night as the riots between the hostile races raged unabated, after having taken a further toll of 40 lives during the day.

The second battalion of the Green Howards, a British regiment stationed at Poona, left at an hour's notice early Tuesday aboard fast special trains for this city. The tanks had been ordered here only a few hours before.

During the night mobs of men, wielding forbidden iron rods, knives, stones and bottles, swirled through the streets in fierce combat by the light of huge bonfires. Other mobs looted Moslem shops. Police struggled to restore order, firing into the rioters in several parts of the city.

At least 16 were killed and 200 injured in Monday's renewal of the riots.

John Hughes Curtis Admits Faking All Kidnaping Reports

People, Boats and Tips
Are All Creations of His Own Mind

IS NOT ARRESTED Negotiator Writes His Own Confession Before Col. Schwarzkopf

HOPEWELL, N. J.—(AP)—Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the state police, announced Tuesday that John Hughes Curtis, one of the Norfolk, Va., negotiators in the Lindbergh kidnaping case, had written a complete confession, "that all the people with whom he has told of negotiations and all the boats which he said he met them, were creations of his own imagination."

Colonel Schwarzkopf's statement follows:

"At 4 o'clock Tuesday morning, John H. Curtis, sat down to a typewriter and himself wrote a complete confession.

"He stated that all the boats and all the people to whom he had been telling of negotiations were creations of his own mind and do not exist in fact."

Shortly after the kidnaping, Mr. Curtis told the story about having contact with the kidnapers.

A newspaper representative made a very lucrative offer to him for the story to be given exclusively to that paper. Also, a very lucrative offer was made by another newspaper and a film company concerning his activities. This spurred Mr. Curtis on to greater activity.

Mr. Curtis also said that that Dean Peacock could have prevented this unfortunate part in this enormous deception.

Admiral Burrows merely presented to Colonel Lindbergh the story after he had heard it, making no recommendations, but permitting it to stand on its merits.

Reputable citizens and officials frequently vouched to Colonel Lindbergh for the integrity of Mr. Curtis, stating his word could be relied on.

This made the deception so much easier.

The story of Mr. Curtis has resulted in very widespread activities of the coast guard and other federal agencies in seeking the fictitious boat he has described.

It has further resulted in many of local airplane trips, as well as keeping Colonel Lindbergh away from home and activities during the most important phase of the case in pursuit of the fictitious clues.

After Colonel Schwarzkopf issued his statement, he was asked if any action had been taken against Curtis and replied that Curtis was not under arrest.

Let's hollow out beside the way
Where men fare to and fro,
A spring, that all, their steps may

Where cooling waters flow,
And then go forth with mirth of grace
And goodliness in every face.
Let's plant a rose beside the road,
Where all the world goes by,
That every pilgrim, with his load,
May feast his happy eye
Upon its beauty as he goes.
And breathe a blessing on the rose,
What is true goodness? who shall

Yet, in his heart one knows
That, surely, some of it have they
Who plant a wayside rose,
Or hollow out a spring whose song
Is mellow music all day long.

Soybeans Better Corn Than Cowpeas

Beans Are Found to Yield Better Quality Hay Than Peas

Since soybeans and cowpeas are two leading annual summer crops for Arkansas, farmers are interested in the relative value. Two crops. Cowpeas have long an important crop and soybeans rapidly becoming more important. Both crops have fully demonstrated their value and there is a place each one, states D. J. Burleson, extension agronomist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

Soybeans and cowpeas differ their adaptations. As a hay crop, beans have some advantages over peas. One advantage is that soybeans produce larger yields than cowpeas. Another advantage is that soybeans are more easily handled and are more quickly cured and the leaves do not shed as they do with cowpeas.

Cowpeas have the advantage of being planted much later than soybeans. In corn at laying-by-time, cowpeas have been flooded and cowpeas planted before late June or early July.

Both soybeans and cowpeas adapted to planting with corn. It is not recommended that legumes be planted in corn at laying-by-time. It is better to plant either when the corn is planted not very long afterwards, and which cannot be expected to be more than 25 bushels per acre, a good plan to plant the corn was about 6 feet wide with a row of legume between the rows of corn.

Do you inhale?

Certainly...

7 out of 10 smokers inhale knowingly . . . the other 3 inhale unknowingly

DO you inhale? Seven out of ten smokers know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities!

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this much-avoided subject... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? More than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.
